

Jack L. Groff

In this history, Jack Groff talks about his activities in the sheep and goat raising industry in the Hill Country. Beginning as a County Extension Agent in Bandera, Jack has been advising ranchers about how to raise goats and sheep for more than 50 years. He talks about his activities as a wool and mohair specialist for Texas A&M and explains in detail all aspects of these fibers and their uses. He talks about his current duties as president of the Mohair Council of America and the activities of this organization to find new and different uses for mohair. In this position, Jack has traveled all over the world consulting with various industries involved in making products of these fibers. During all these years, Jack has also maintained his own ranching operations in the Harper area and Medina County where he operates a ranch with cows and wildlife.
